President's Report July 2013

My tenure as President of this Society will come to a culmination at our AGM in August this year. This for me has been two years of learning about this marvellous Society. 2012/2013 has been a very busy year and one that would not have been successful without the Committee but in particular a wonderful and special person, my wife Jacqui. As Secretary of the Society for the last two years, Jacqui's drive and passion involving every facet of organising, conducting and executing all things African Violet Society of WA would not have happened in the most excellent way they did. Jacqui has developed as a grower in her few years with the Society, culminating in her recent successes at our Annual May Show as a State Champion. It reflects her attitude and aptitude and under her guidance and tutelage, I too have also become a grower.

The other members of the Committee are a great group, always eager to perform their respective roles on the many activities that were undertaken during the year. Their respective enthusiasm, responsibility and effectiveness rounded an excellent effort and represent a true blend of people that populate this Society. Our committee meetings have been proper, fun, thought-provoking, technical and collaborative. So very enjoyable to me and just plain good stuff, opinions are expressed openly which have ensured ideas are roundly discussed and thought through. I am privileged to have been educated in the ways of African Violets and Gesneriads by these lovely passionate people. Each member knows this and I thank and respect each one of them. Other members in positions of responsibility carry out duties for the monthly meetings such as our Caddy, Raffle organisers and Door Persons who are seriously critical cogs in the mechanics of the monthly meetings.

It is the culture or philosophy of the Society to promote the power of plants and in particular African Violets and Gesneriads. In applying that culture to our members' advantage and enjoyment had in past years diminished. The progress from very formal to more focus on activities, still respecting the requirements of our incorporated constitution has been gradual and I believe we have achieved the right mix. Certainly June's meeting reflected that. I hope it continues to be nurtured in coming years particularly with many members who have contributed so much and now wish to meditate on the best things that the Society offers; looking at what growers are producing; participating in a related activity or workshop; enjoying a chat and a cup of tea; and listening to a presentation or two that could be interesting. Not having the burden of a Committee Executive position or a Position of Responsibility which in some cases carries extra time commitment and hard work. Many of our members have performed these roles in the Society's past and some are continuing to do so despite having these rightful sentiments and these are the persons that I most admire. It is also a responsibility to our new members to spread the message to help us grow and promote African Violets and Gesneriads.

To this end I believe that our web site is a most important portal to reaching out to those who may want to join us and/or are curious to learn more about how to grow and maintain African Violets and Gesneriads. Just look at the interest generated at our Annual May Show and how it can be celebrated afterward publicly. My highlights of the year include our web site finally becoming a reality, the representation at August 2012 and February 2013 Garden Shows, the Christmas function, Society Tee Shirts and the 2013 Annual May Show with record entries. The support of our Patron Geoff Richards is greatly appreciated with his attendances at our award functions and his donation of two perpetual trophies recently for our Annual May Show adding contemporary content. The enthusiasm of the Kardinya Park Shopping Centre to support and promote our show is outstanding and continuing in the future.

I personally can say that the experience with our Society as your President of the last two years has become a love of what we are and what we promote. Again, my admiration extends to those who take up Committee positions and are growers too. This is accentuated by my wife's increasing abilities as a grower, her successes from a Novice Grower last year to State Champion this year and my own fervour in imitating all of what she is does agrarian. I believe, I handover the Society in a healthy condition to the next President and the committee that is elected on your behalf.

Treasurers Report

Our Treasurer Diana, will present her report at each of the Society's Monthly Meetings. A copy of the financial report will be available to all members for perusal so if you wish to have a copy, please ask and one will be made available to you.

From your Secretary

I would like to thank all members of the Society for their support and knowledge. During my two year stint as Secretary, it has been a very enjoyable and rewarding learning curve.

A special thank you to the Committee for their great knowledge and also an extra special thank you to Norma Dougall who has assisted me with information when I have been completely lost.

I shall miss our meetings (both Committee and Members) and look forward to seeing you again in 2015 when hopefully I can once again be of some assistance on the Committee.

For the new incoming Secretary I wish you well and I know that you will find this position very challenging and enjoyable. Jacqui

Activity Time

At our recent meeting in June one of the activities was potting a leaf led by Aileen, Reiko, Pat and Jacqui. For more pictures visit our web site by entering in Google African Violet Society WA or by typing in the URL www.waavsinc.com

The "Talk" at the June meeting from the Orchid blokes was terrific and a big thanks to John and Ron for their time and alacrity:

From the Editor

Greetings all, I have now been Editor for 3 years and will not be re nominating BUT a new and very experienced Editor will be taking over. I will still be active in the Committee as I simply love the people I have had such a wonderful association with over the past few years.
We have among us some wonderful growers and in this edition I will focus on two of them.

BARRY EDWARDS

Eds Note: Barry joined the AVS WA about five years ago and has done a splendid job for the Society. We owe him a lot. He is currently our Trader and does a splendid job of it. Barry also does the potting mix and puts in many hours in addition to his committee duties. He has won many awards whilst he has been with the Society and is a legend for his work for us. Here is his story and his growing tips.

How We Started to Grow African Violets

We retired to Perth from Albany having been involved in flower societies for over fifty years and most of these organizations had ceased to operate for one reason or another. We were probably looking for something to involve ourselves in.

We attended a WA AVS show at the Kardinya Shopping Centre and were gobsmacked at the beauty of these plants. Consequently with the help of a member (June Woodley) we bought four plants and were invited to attend their meeting which we did. We found it the most friendly Society we have ever joined and went home from this function with gifts of leaves, plants and plenty of advice.

This was followed up with a visit to our home of two ladies Aileen La Rosa and Pat Humphreys. They arrived with more leaves and demonstrated how to plant and grow violets. From this we found we needed to find somewhere to put these plants and so I built our first light stand from PVC piping and installed our first lights. This involved no woodworking or welding skills so anyone can do it. PVC is easily cut with a hacksaw and glued together. This first stand was soon overflowing with plants and necessitated the building yet another and another shelf!
So the disease began. (Anyone in doubt should check in with Jacqui and Eric!!) We now have eight shelves and over two hundred plants.

Counting the takings with Audrey

Barry's Way

Some of our members have trouble with an excessive number of suckers on their plants. This is what I do to avoid the problem.

1. All my violets are on a wick watering system. I use a one KG honey container as my water well. These are cheap costing only 65 cents each but they do have soft lids.
2. These containers are painted with two coats of oil based satin enamel white to discourage algae growth as it protects the containers from excessive light.
3. These containers are all of a standard size, hold quite a large and similar quantity of liquid (water and fertilizer mixed) so I only water every 10 days.
4. At watering, every plant is checked for suckers which I remove with a sharp pointed lead pencil. Removing suckers at this early stage prevents them from developing and creating a bigger problem later.
5. At this time plants are also checked for old and/or damaged leaves which are removed, water is topped up and plants replaced on the shelves until the next time. Such regular care produces healthy plants.
6. I would like to add that the pots are painted in oil based paint so they can be easily washed in a mild bleach solution as needed. I also use paper stickers on the outside of the pots as these are easily removed by soaking. The name of the plant and the date it is potted is written on these stickers and are easily visible without having to lift plant out of wells.

Receiving the Sydney Crawcour 2011 award from Jacqui

PAT HUMPHREYS

Eds Note: Pat Humphreys has been with the society for over 20 years. Pat currently fills the position of Librarian and is now a lifetime member of the Society. She has won many awards and is focussing on Gesneriads at this time. Pat is renown for "rolling up her sleeves and getting down and getting dirty" when there is a task to be done.

Pat initially joined what was then the Southside Gesneriad Society run by Edna Dawe at her home in Salter Point. For various reasons this group disbanded and Pat bought Edna's light stand and some of her plants. Being then a busy working Mum (Pat was a machinist for 35 years), she had too many plants and not enough time so that some of the plants suffered.

She later joined the AVS WA about 20 years ago. According to Aileen La Rosa, another stalwart of the society, Pat was always very helpful if sometime outspoken. A big hearted lady always ready to help the newcomer with her many years of experience growing African Violets. Her creative husband Alan is also a contributor and provides many excellent suggestions for themes and support.

An area Pat excels in is growing Streptocarpus from seed, as she says 'it's a challenge.' We have seen many of the beautiful flowers from time to time. Sue Hodges from NSW Society sends the seeds over for the members to try and grow. Perhaps we could get Pat to talk to us at a future date of how best grow Streptocarpus from seed.

Presenting a talk on seeds

Presenting 2nd prize in the raffle at the recent 2013 Annual May Show

Pat was asked to give a talk recently to another garden club and here's how she describes it.

"I was asked by the Mandurah Garden Club to give a talk on African Violets to their members on 12th of June at 2 pm and I agreed. It was my first time and I found myself fighting off the butterflies that had taken residence in the pit of my stomach, but once I started the talk they all settled down!
I took a cross section of plants, Miniatures, Semi Miniatures, Standards, a Trailer and a few others. I showed them how to put down a leaf and on completion I donated them to their raffle and was surprised to see that they were the first one off the table! I think the talk went very well with questions and answers back and forth. Needless to say it was very enjoyable and if asked I would do it again"

THE TEN, OOPS! THE THIRTEEN COMMANDMENTS FOR AFRICAN VIOLETS

1. Thou salt not keep my feet in water- I have no boots.

2. Thou shalt not deprive me of light though I do not need direct sunlight.

3. Thou shalt not make my bed hard packed, it must be light and fluffy.

4. Thou shalt not deprive me of periodical feeding- how shall I survive.

5. Thou shalt not forget to bathe me periodically, set me away from sun until dry.

6. Thou shalt not leave me sitting in one position forever, turn me around often.

7. Thou shalt not let stray hands paw me, they break my leaves.

8. Thou shalt not let me grow young ones (suckers) to my bosom, they crowd me.

9. Thou shalt not leave me to the mercy of ignorant, well-meaning friends while you are on vacation.

10. Thou shalt not neglect to provide moist, fresh air around me.

11. Thou shalt not allow old leaves and dead blossoms to drape my person, they are messy.

12 . Thou shalt not allow pests such as mites, etc. to molest my foliage, let us spray.

13 . Thou shalt not ignore these commandments and expect me to be- "QUEEN OF THE SHOW"

Thank You Sue "Seeds" Hodges

The Society wishes to thank Sue Hodges for her donation of Gesneriad seeds for our workshop session planned for 20th July 2013. Sue has sent enough seed for our members have a small variety of plants to raise as the time goes by, therefore bolstering the Society's capability to display and foster a range of gesneriad plants. Sue also included instructions for planting and nurturing the seeds and we hope to be able to send her photos of the results. So come on members, do your best and bring out the best for our shows and monthly competitions albeit in twelve months or so.

How I grow Eucodonia by Reiko Lee

Eucodonia is one of the seasonal gesneriads from Mexico.
Growing Eucodonia from Rhizomes (long white tubers) starts with planting in spring, and finishes with flowering in late autumn, forming more Rhizomes under potting mix.

The one I grow is called E. "Adele". This plant can be grown under light in a small pot, but I grow it in a 20cm hanging basket, in my courtyard which is covered with shade cloth and opaque plastic sheets. The courtyard is quite hot during summer, and the plant gets filtered sunlight most of the day. It starts blooming from the end of summer to autumn, just in time for our Annual Show. I won the Princess of Gesneriads with this species and combined with two other types of Gesneriad the State Championship this year. I use the following potting mix.

Potting mix: AV mix ½ + good quality commercial potting mix ½.
AV mix can be used alone but it dries up very quickly outdoors.

Planting: In spring between the end of September and early October, plant a few rhizomes in pots or hanging baskets horizontally, cover them with p/mix 1-2 cm deep.
Feed them with African Violet fertiliser (Manutec), also a small amount of 'blood and bone' can be added to the potting mix when the mix is made.

Growing: When new shoots form 6-8 leaves, pinch centre 2 leaves to make plants bushy. Repeat pinching until small flower buds form in mid-end summer. Turn the pot around regularly. Be careful not to show bare soil, especially at the centre. After flowers finish, the plants die down at the end of June to early July, reduce the water gradually and keep the pot barely moist till spring.

Then collect more rhizomes and start all over.

The original rhizomes were given to me when I attended the 1995 Gesneriad Council meeting. A couple of years later, I had enough rhizomes to share with other members of the Society who wanted to try. When my hanging basket failed to flower one year, there were no rhizomes left.

However, luckily I received a few bulbs back from a member who had kept on growing them!!

Eucodonia E. Adele

State Champions 2013

Following the Annual Show Awards, Certificates for the two State Champions arrived from the WA Horticultural Society and was presented to Reiko and Jacqui respectively by the President Eric.

TEE SHIRTS

See our Secretary to obtain your AVS WA Tee Shirt for $33. Order to size or try one on at the monthly meetings. Great colour even on the blokes!! Stocks are available at our Trading Table, sizes 14, 18 and XL. Orders can taken for your size and payment in advance please.

Monthly Competition

Our monthly competition is very important; Reiko does a terrific job of organising the layout, judging, compilation and reporting of the results. Here are few examples submitted:

From Best Novice Grower to State Champion in One Year 2012 - 2013

Special mention should be made to Jacqui Bateman this year. Not only has Jacqui excelled in her role as Secretary of the Society, Jacqui has achieved a remarkable progression in her activities in the important growers area. Her outstanding production of the Standard, Semi/Miniature and Trailer overall is a keynote progression as State Champion African Violets and provides an incentive to other new members to emulate what Jacqui has achieved. Jacqui's overall enthusiasm and love of African Violets and Gesneriads has produced the quality of a deserving 2013 Champion. Congratulations Jacqui as the Society has benefitted by your contribution, skills and passion.

Important Notice

The next two pages are very important forms. The first is the nomination form for a position on our Committee.

All positions are vacant and as with every other year, if the Executive positions of President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer are not filled then the Society through its Constitution must fold.

Many members have given their time in the past to fill these and other positions on the Committee however, the African Violet Society of WA Inc has been in existence since the 1960's and the founders, as does the current members do not want to see its demise. Some of the current Executive will be absent for a while but will be back.

So complete the Membership Form on page five and pay your fee so that you are both eligible to nominate and/or vote. Hand it in to Aileen La Rosa or send it by post. Even more encourage others to join and look at our Web Site.
